HOMECOMING QUEEN — Rosemary Jones, a senior at Monte Vista High School, was crowned Homecoming Queen Friday during the school's homecoming game. Rosemary, who has been a varsity cheerleader for 2 years, was picked from among five finalists.

She was selected by a vote of the seniors and was crowned at half time. The Monte Vista team came out second best in the homecoming game against El Capitan with a score of 20 to 46.

Angels Unaware List Nears 1,000 Mark

Forty-five more families have gotten on the subscription bandwagon being conducted by this newspaper. By subscribing, each is making a contribution to Angels Unaware, the East County Chapter of the San Diego Association for Retarded Children.

The 45 new subscribers bring to a total of 931 families who are participating in this newspaper's campaign for more readers. It brings to almost 10,000 the total number of subscribers this newspaper now has in Lemon Grove and in Spring Valley.

Each of the new subscribers has signed up for one year and a portion of their subscription funds is being channeled to Angels Unaware for playground equipment for the day center at 1288 E. Lexington ave. in El Cajon.

The campaign is being waged by this newspaper to build its readership up locally so that residents may know more about local government and what's going on in the community. To create interest in it, the campaign is tied in with Angels Unaware and their playground equipment project. The Angels Unaware Day Center is being remodeled at present. Part of the funds gathered by this publication in the circulation campaign will be given to Angels Unaware for that purpose.

Amounts ranging from 10 cents to $3.50 are turned over to Angels Unaware for each subscription obtained. A simple renewal (through our sales-people) provides the smaller amount, $3.50 is contributed when a first-time subscriber pays for the newspaper for two years through one of Angels Unaware members. Varying amounts in between are handed over for other combinations.

Each week this publication prints the names of the families who have agreed to participate. This week's list of subscribers includes:

Mrs. O. F. Smith, 1745 Englewood dr., L. G.
Mrs. John Forrer, 4258 Blackton dr., La Mesa.
Mrs. Christine Bentley, 1737 Englewood dr., L. G.
Mrs. F. S. Cosgrove, 1775 Ensenada st., L. G.

L.G. Post Office To Be Open Longer Until Christmas

The Lemon Grove Post Office will expand window service hours between Dec. 5 and Dec. 23. New hours will be 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. daily. Money order service hours will remain the same. (8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily, no money orders sold on Saturday.)

Parcel post will be delivered daily Monday through Saturday from Dec. 7 through Dec. 31. The Lemon Grove Zip Code number is 92045. Zip coding of mail can save 24 hours between Lemon Grove and the cities on the east coast, said Postmaster Frenchy Foucher.

The Post Office recommends mailing Christmas parcels to servicemen overseas before Thanksgiving.

United Community Rolls Toward $6,500 Goal

Lemon Grove's 1964 United Community Services Campaign has started to roll as shown by the increase in per cent of goal from 21.1% Nov. 2 to 56.5% Nov. 11. This amounts to $3,672 toward the $6,500 goal with a city and county conclusion of the campaign on Nov. 25.

Two outstanding records have been made in divisions of the campaign. Public service with Byron Netsley as chairman has 81.4% of the $2,200 goal, and the professional division with James Osborne, M. D., chairman, has 82.4% of the $750 goal.

Sam Pernicano, Lemon Grove USC Campaign chairman reminds all chairmen, campaigners, and volunteers that the third and final city and county report meeting will be held in the new San Diego Community Concourse on Tuesday, Nov. 24.

Vote Machine Contract Retained By Supervisors

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — Supervisor De Graff Austin changed his mind Tuesday.

As a result, San Diego County still has a contract with the Cubic Corporation of San Diego to supply 60 vote counters — new and larger machines than the ones used in the counting of the vote in the Nov. 3 election.

Austin, 69, changed his mind after a one-and-a-half-hour executive session which started a little after noon. Earlier Austin's vote coupled with the no votes of Frank Gibson and David Bird had turned down the offer of Cubic for an extension of time for decision until Dec. 1, 1965. This will come after a further use of electronic vote counters during a San Diego election in September.

The contract with Cubic says that unless the counters failed to meet test procedures set in a report to the State of California Commission on Voting Machines and Tabulating Devices, the county was committed to go ahead with the purchase of the improved devices.

After the closed meeting, County Chief Administrative Officer T. M. Heggland was asked if the Votronic vote counters had in fact met the test. He said, "That's a decision we did not have to make."

It was, however, the decision that the board was to have made in the closed session. County Counsel Bertram McLees had advised on the closed meeting because the decision, he said, might result in litigation. Discussion apparently centered instead on whether to reverse the first vote taken at about 10 in the morning.

Sees Improvement

County Registrar of Voters Charles J. Sexton in a report to the board called the experience with the machines, a success and said that the new counters plus the experience gained by Cubic and the county probably would make for a better situation at the next election.

Sexton said that mistakes had been made in the counting procedures, especially in the decision to attempt to count absentee ballots in advance of the regular precinct counting. He said that improved marking devices are necessary. He said he believed the mistakes could be corrected.

Supervisors Robert Cozens and Robert Dent voted for the extension of the decision time at both votes. Cozens said that he could see no reason not to accept the offer of the corporation.

Heggland, Sexton and McLees have been instructed to work with Cubic on a new contract embodying the changes necessary for the new time schedule. There was no further discussion of the lease-purchase agreement nor of the rent that will be charged for the next use of the machines. (On Nov. 3, the rent was $175,000 of which $125,000 was to be applied to the purchase.)

No Suit Seen

Cubic Vice President Ray Loomis said informally to reporters (as the board met in secret) that he did not believe that his company would sue the county even if the board had decided against further use of the machines. He said that he believed the county had been treated more than fairly by the corporation in the contract and the time extension.

Sexton said in his letter that to return to a manual vote tallying system would be nearly impossible. No board member suggested this as an alternate during the open meeting.

Sexton's letter, which came after two meetings Monday with Heggland and McLees, read more like a statement of the facts and then his opinion, rather than a recommendation to the board. Since he did call the experience a success, it would appear that the county would have been on shaky ground if it had turned down the machines and a law suit had ensued.

Election Procedures Complaint Basis Of Bird's Lawyer's Letter

David W. Bird, 2nd District supervisor, who was defeated by businessman Henry Boney of La Mesa by 169 votes, was not able to get a precinct by precinct breakdown, his attorney, Robert Thorn, charged this week.

Thorn is a member of the law firm of Kamlin, Sorbo, Andreen, Thorn and Gallagher. The semi-official returns had Boney leading 55,930 to 55,761 in a see-saw election.

Charles Sexton, registrar of voters, said that the information was available.

Attorney Thorn, in a letter to Robert Dent, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, charged that there was a recounting of ballots already processed. "It is my opinion that never in the history of this country, have we had such a bungling mess as occurred by use of the procedure adopted for this election."

Sexton said that he has the authority to order a recount of a precinct if there is an apparent, obvious error in the reported totals. "All procedures are spelled out by law," Sexton said. "We not only have the authority for certain recounts, but we also have the responsibility."

Thorn said that there will be a request for a recount as soon as results of the election are certified by the board. The Board of Supervisors is also the election board.

In Thorn's letter, he said "At the time of the court hearing on the recount, I am prepared to introduce evidence to support some 40 questionable acts and procedures that took place on the night of the election, the majority of which occurred in the office of the registrar of voters."

Sexton said there will probably be a change in the totals in the Bird-Boney battle. "But that there will be a change in the outcome is doubtful."

Sexton said he had not seen the letter, but that some of Thorn's charges apparently resulted from misunderstandings.

Thorn said he would detail his charges before the board of supervisors if it calls a hearing on the matter. "Otherwise," Thorn said, "I believe this is a matter for the district attorney and the Grand Jury."

Meanwhile, supervisors were deciding what to do about purchasing the counting machines from the local Cubic Corp. The county leased 60 of the machines for the Nov. 3 election and agreed in the contract to buy 60 advanced models if the first performance was satisfactory. The machines would have cost about $2 million including interest and the decision was to have been made three days after the election. At that time, however, votes were still being counted due to numerous delays. (See Related Story, This Page).

CIRCUS — Jan Orwyn, a trapeze artist, will be featured Tuesday, Nov. 24, in the Big John Strong Circus in Lemon Grove. The circus, sponsored by the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce, will give two shows behind the Mayfair Market. The shows will be at 4 p.m. and 8 p.m. The circus has been playing at California state and county fairs for ten years and entertaining children in Los Angeles schools for fifteen years under the sponsorship of PTA.

The next major election is the San Diego City Primary in September 1965.

There have been several complaints about the procedure relating to the machines. Results were not available for several days after the polls closed compared with the several hours the registrar had predicted.

Human errors by voters, precinct workers and his staff combined with some mechanical failures contributed to the delay, Sexton said.

Rain, Cold Strike L.G.

Lemon Grove had more than an inch of rain during the past week but the season's total still falls far short of last year. Coupled with the rain, the area had cold weather which dropped to a low of 36 degrees during the night Monday. The high temperature for the week was 63 degrees last Thursday afternoon.

The total rainfall for the week was 1.22 inches. From 4 p.m. until Wednesday morning .48 inches of rain fell here.

So far this year 2 inches of rain has been recorded. Last year at this time the total was 3.45.

Don Johns Dinner To Attract Fifty

Approximately 50 persons will be in attendance Saturday when the Chamber of Commerce and its Merchants' Division holds a farewell dinner for Don Johns.

The dinner will be at El Morocco at 7 p.m. and the public is invited but reservations must be made.

Johns is past chairman of the Merchants' Division and vice president of the Chamber. He initiated several local promotional campaigns including an annual safety campaign. While here as manager of the B. F. Goodrich store, he increased the retail dollar volume dramatically. He set a record for Goodrich stores in the Western United States in increased volume.

The dinner Saturday will be $3.75 including tax and tip. Reservations may be made at the Chamber office by calling Joyce Wilson at 469-9321.

The program will be handled by Pat Grace of Spears Ford and Max Goodwin, local newspaperman. Forrest Baxter, chamber president, will preside over a short business meeting. The rest of the program will be fun and frivolity, Grace said.

IT'S A DATE — While fullback Frank Finizio is on the field Nov. 22 for the seventh annual Leatherneck Bowl in Balboa Stadium, Sandy Seiden will be in the stands cheering the San Diego Marine Corps Recruit Depot Devil Dogs to victory against the Pensacola, Fla., Naval Air Station Goshawks. All the proceeds of the annual service classic go to the San Diego United Community Services and Navy Relief charities. (U. S. Marine Corps Photo)

GOD'S MINUTE

REV. H. C. BAKKEN

"TODAY"

When the love of Christ has come to our hearts, we become burden bearers. Our interest is no longer in trying to get everything we can for ourselves, but in helping those who are weighed down by burdens. Look around to see if there is someone who needs a little help with their burden today. Lifting their burden will also make you walk straighter.

Girl Scout Chatter

by Mary D. Giacinto

Troop 661 spent a most delightful weekend at Camp Tapawingo last week. Tapawingo means place of joy, and it sure was a joy for the 23 girls in the troop, for Pat Owens, their leader and for assistant leaders, Marion Obendorfer, Mary Mellos, Pat Shriver and Virginia Moran. In Pat's own words, "They had a ball."

Some of the girls who had never seen snow before enjoyed a three mile hike while the lacy wonder fell all around them. The snow stopped falling long enough for the girls to enjoy lunch amidst the wonder-world of white. Then as if by plan, on their hike back snow fell again to intrigue them. Of course leaders and girls had a good old-fashioned snowball fight. They also made some pretty good snowmen. Though the girls spent nights in the lodge, it was only a wood fire that warmed them — that is besides their warm spirits.

However, there was a serious side too. Troop 661 worked on a group project for their troop camper badge. Other badge work aspired to Indian lore, dancer, dabbler, sprints and observer.

The whole group agree that it will be one of the most memorable weekends of their lives.

Dinner Meeting Set By Methodist Men

The Personal Faith group and the Teacher's Training groups are continuing to meet each Wednesday at 10 a.m. at the church.

MISSIONARY FAMILY — Rev. and Mrs. Richard Chase and their family, former Spring Valley residents, are now in West Africa serving as missionaries. Their work is being supported in part by the Bancroft Baptist Church of Spring Valley.

Former SV Family Serving As Missionaries In Africa

Rev. Richard Chase and his wife, Beverly, are serving as missionaries in Accra, Ghana, West Africa. Rev. Chase is director of projects involving the translation of the Holy Scriptures into the native tribal tongues of that area.

He is responsible for the direction of twenty-four missionary linguists laboring at this assignment of developing a written language for the multitudes of peoples in that country who have only a spoken language.

This function is under the guidance of the world wide endeavors of the Wycliffe Bible Translators in cooperation with the American Bible Society in carrying out the challenging task of the transference of over 2,000 tongues to a written language.

Rev. Chase is directly responsible for 14 tribes in this area of Africa. The objective of the missionaries is to get the Bible translated so that every man may read it.

Primers must be compiled and reading itself taught so there is a great need for missionary linguists and missionary teachers.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

Image-Schmimage
I long to scream and I hear a ringing in my ears, as the word "image" issues repeatedly from the press, commentators and all my vocal peers.

Couldn't they drop the word from their vocabulary, and give the public surcease if only temporary.

Has America become a big cowerin' timorous beast, shaking in her seven league boots because they may not applaud us in the West or in the East?

The U. S. has become a species of self-made pigeon, and still the nations who refuse to love us are Legion. Let's try to hold within the bounds of reason our regret.

If we're not entirely pleased to Tibet.

Don't let's lapse into a cosmic melancholia.

If they don't dig us in Cambodia.

Must we come down with a national trauma, if the natives don't adore us in Chili, Picadilly or Burma? Don't we have the privilege of being more enamored of America, than we are smitten with Britain.

and to feel that it's final to be in Carolina than Communist or even Nationalist China?

Merchant Marine Applications Open

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Jan. 31 is the deadline for accepting applications from the California 37th District for nominations to the next class at the United States Merchant Marine Academy. Congressman Lionel Van Deerlin announced this week. Each Congressman is authorized to name ten qualified candidates from his district, and will receive applications up to the deadline.

The United States Merchant Marine Academy, one of five federal academies, has as its mission the education and training of qualified young citizens to become officers in the American Merchant Marine. Its four-year, college-level program leads to a bachelor of science degree, a license to sail as third officer, deck or engine, on American ships, and a commission as ensign in the United States Naval Reserve. Since the creation of the academy over 25 years ago, 1,369 young men from California have been graduated. At present, there are 48 lads from this state in the corps of cadets.

Van Deerlin advises constituents who seek more detailed information about the education and career opportunities afforded by the program of the United States Merchant Marine Academy to contact his office, Room 211, 815 E Street, San Diego, or write to the academy's training representative, Department of Commerce, Maritime Administration, 450 Golden Gate ave., P. O. Box 36073, San Francisco, California 94102.

It is still not too late to plant the bulbs that your nurseryman has in abundance.

It is well to dip your bulbs in a Nicotine spray before planting to eliminate thrips and mites and give them a healthy start.

Bulbs should be planted to a depth of twice the diameter of the bulb itself.

Bulbs are almost as numerous as the familiar bedding plants and they also have their preference as to soil and climate. If you are not familiar with the ones you are considering, talk to your nurseryman. He will be glad to help you pick out those bulbs that prefer the special places you wish to put them.

Don't Forget Our Feline Friends

While we turn our attention to charity at the holiday season of the year, it might be well to include our animal friends in our feeling of generosity.

Such a thought came to mind when Mrs. May Olivera, who lives in nearby Castle Park, petitioned us for help with the 40 house cats she supports on her husband's small state pension.

Mrs. Olivera is 69 years of age. Her husband is a retired night watchman who injured his leg while working for Hansen Brothers many years ago. He uses a walking device to get about. But helping cats is the concern of Mrs. Olivera. She feeds 25 cats that have been dropped off near her home as strays. She keeps 15 indoors because their health is not good enough for them to face the rigors of the outside world. She has the tom cats treated so that cat proliferation ceases... at least as far as her toms are concerned. But she has two veterinary bills that need satisfying as a result. One is for $101; the other is for $35.

If any of our readers have a feeling about wanting to aid in Operation Housecat, we suggest that he send his donation to Mrs. Olivera at P. O. Box 3119, Castle Park post office in Chula Vista. Or send them to her in care of this newspaper. Her street address is not given because there are many families seeking just such a person to dump cats.

Those who may want to talk to Mrs. Olivera may call her at 420-3106. It appears to be a pretty good holiday project for cat lovers.

One Less Stop For The Paycheck

There's a prospective new law, now being considered by Congress, that would eliminate the current U.S. Government payroll check. Pay scheduled to go to government employees would be credited to the employees' bank account wherever that might be.

The idea is favored by both lawmakers and government officials, it is said, because it eliminates almost entirely losses and thefts of uncashed checks. The paperwork itself, supposedly, would save money for the taxpayers.

As it stands now, the law, if enacted, would cover servicemen, veterans, federal government employees, beneficiaries receiving government insurance checks, and all others who receive money from the U.S. Government on a regular basis.

In practice, it would work this way. Instead of a government agency, such as the Navy, issuing checks, it would ask the individual to designate an institution of his choice for deposit of the money.

The agency would then issue one check for each institution and designate the amounts to be credited to each individual's accounts. The individual would then be able to withdraw all or any part of the money as he desired.

The amount designated for deposit would be the net pay after the usual deductions. The program has the approval of the American Banking Association.

We think the idea is a good one but it should be extended for the convenience of private enterprise. Privately owned firms should be allowed to issue checks for gross earnings to their employees. These checks would carry a fold-under stub showing the amount of the employees' various deductions. The bank would retain the State Unemployment Insurance; The Federal Old Age Benefits and the Federal Withholding taxes to ship on to the proper agencies at the time it is required.

One major benefit would be to take private firms out of the banking business. The other would be the savings for the taxpayer whose funds are withheld by firms which go bankrupt.

Christmas Checks Being Distributed

Holiday business in San Diego will get a $1,984,780 boost this week when 16,900 Christmas Club members of the First National Bank receive their Christmas Club checks.

The First National Bank is one of 9900 financial institutions that will be distributing 1.775 billion dollars to more than 14 million Christmas Club members throughout the nation.

Last year First National paid $1,805,468 to 16,100 Christmas Club members reported Jack W. Koop, manager of the bank's Lemon Grove branch.

Surveys by Christmas Club, a corporation, nationally show that of this year's 1.775 billion dollars distributed, it is estimated that 676 million dollars will be used for Christmas purchases. Of the remaining funds, 555 million will be transferred to regular savings, 221 million will be used for taxes, 109 million for year-end bills, and 211 million for miscellaneous items.

The 1964 survey also shows that four states account for some 50 per cent of the membership with New York leading, followed by Pennsylvania, New Jersey and California.

Accounts for 1965 may be opened now in amounts ranging from $1 to $20 payable bi-weekly.

Southwest Corner

Here is another column by veteran writer Pete Odens of Imperial Valley. An interesting historian, his columns, which we will publish from time to time, will concern history of Southern California.

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. — Even today there are those who believe there is a curse over Griffith Park in eastern Hollywood, a curse pronounced by the beautiful Petranilla, niece of Don Antonio Felix, because his lands were to be given away and she refused to accept her uncle's testament as the expression of his true will.

The story goes back to the days of 1775/6 when Juan Bautista de Anza crossed the desert. With him was a young corporal, Jose Vicente Felix, who settled on the coast and was eventually given a land grant of some 8,000 acres by Governor Pedro Fages. The Felix family in the years that followed was able to build it into a magnificent property, raising horses and cattle.

In 1863, the smallpox attacked California and Don Antonio Felix, then the owner of what was known as the Rancho de los Felix, was a victim. What really happened as Don Antonio died is not quite known. At 1 o'clock that afternoon, Don Antonio was no longer able to speak. A prominent citizen by the name of Antonio Coronel visited him shortly afterward and a will was drawn up. Who wrote the will or who signed it is not known. Rumors have it that Coronel brought with him a ventriloquist who, as Felix lay on his bed, unable to move or speak, put words into the dying man's mouth which made it appear that he approved of the will.

TWELVE MARES

In any event, the will specified that Don Antonio's godson Juan Sanchez should receive twelve mares, each with a colt, and one stallion, while his sister Soledad and his sister-in-law Juana Valenzuela were to be given various household items and furniture. The rest, in fact practically all his property, was to be administered by Coronel and sold. All proceeds were to go to charitable purposes.

Felix's niece, the 17-year old Petranilla, a tall, slim, fiery beauty who had been like a daughter to Don Antonio, was completely left out, and in her disappointment, refused to accept the arrangement claiming it had been made by foul means. In a tumultuous meeting, Petranilla predicted that the judge who had approved the arrangements would die of a violent death; the new owner of the rancho, Petranilla continued, would see his enterprises fail, his fields turn brown and his trees wither away before he, too, would be killed. As for Coronel, the girl cried, he would live a long, but unhappy life.

After she had pronounced this curse, Petranilla slid to the floor in a faint. A physician was called in but he merely shook his head. For a moment, Petranilla came to and asked to see a priest to give her absolution, then she died.

It was not long before troubles began to haunt the Rancho de los Felix. Leon Baldwin, who had bought the property, established a fine dairy farm on it and built a magnificent home for his brother, General John M. Baldwin. But no sooner had he embarked upon his enterprise when disease struck his cattle, grasshoppers attacked his fields and a fire did the rest — Baldwin was forced to abandon the rancho.

TALKS OF 'THE CURSE'

The next owner was not much more fortunate. He was Colonel G. J. Griffith. In March of 1884, a cloudburst destroyed his fields and the people began to talk about the curse. Somebody suggested that the floods which came down the canyon were the work of Petranilla and an old man added that he had seen Don Antonio Felix himself riding the waves which crashed down on the fields. This ghost was reportedly seen later at a party given by Griffith when he, as a result of his troubles with the rancho, decided that it would be unwise to keep the cursed property and donated it to the City of Los Angeles.

Meanwhile, an ostrich farm established by a family who had rented part of the rancho, ran into difficulties as the birds died, one by one. As for the Coronel family, Antonio lived to a ripe old age, but just as Petranilla had predicted, he was not a happy man and after his death, his property was dissolved and one court case followed another in a dispute among his heirs.

As for Leon Baldwin, the first owner of the rancho after Antonio Felix's death, he was murdered by Mexican bandits, while the lawyer and the judge involved were shot by men who held personal grudges against them. Troubles continued well into the 20th century as the marriage of Colonel and Mrs. Griffith went on the rocks in 1903. Even as late as Christmas week, 1929, a fire swept across Griffith Park and one life was lost.

Then at last, the curse seemed to have run its course. The superstitious believe that Don Antonio Felix and his beautiful niece Petranilla can finally rest in peace.

Mt. Miguel Band To March Twice During Week End

Mount Miguel marching band and specialty corps will compete in the West Arcadia Invitational Band Review, at 10 a.m. Saturday, in West Arcadia. Approximately 50 bands will compete in two divisions: Class AA comprised of schools having enrollment over 2,100, and Class A having enrollment under 2,100 students.

Five places will be awarded in each division with an overall sweepstakes prize to be awarded to the best of the entire group. The Mt. Miguel band has won sweepstakes in 1959, 1961 and 1962. Leaving Mt. Miguel High School by Greyhound Bus at 5 a.m. they will return at 9 p.m. the same day.

The band and corps will participate in the Mother Goose Parade held in El Cajon on Sunday, at 2 p.m. This parade is one of the largest parades, held in the Southern part of California, second only to the Rose Parade.
